In Ireland, Spanish influenza appeared in Belfast, then in Ballinasloe, and later became prevalent in Athlone and Tipperary. It is noticed that as a rule the first persons attacked are children, thence it spreads to adults, and a medical authority considers it much more difficult for adults to get over an attack than for children.

No Sense in It.

"I don't see any sense in doctors being sick," said little Elizabeth, "because they're right around with themselves all the time."—Medical Journal.

The Canada Food Board calls upon people at summer resorts and residents to make a drive on the wild berry patch. Wild berries are abundant as usual. The main argument for gathering the wild berries freely is the shortage of butter in Europe. During the winter of 1918-19 jam must be used extensively for butter and the finest flavored jam in the world is said to be that which is made from wild berries.
